

It's important that we keep our long term goals in mind to ensure we prioritise the right things during our days. This is where your personal checklist comes in. This brief worksheet will help you come up with questions to help you concentrate on actions that make best use of your finite time.

1. Fill in the blanks.

For the next 6 months to be considered successful, I would like to target the following:

- ☐ Target 1 _____
- ☐ Target 2 _____
- ☐ Target 3 _____
- ☐ Target 4 _____
- ☐ Target 5 _____

2. Rank these targets from 1 to 5 (1 is the most important and 5 the least).

3. Do targets 1 and 2 have something in common?

For example "make more sales", "launch new website" or "hit halfway point on the team's quarterly objective".

4. How important is achieving this in accomplishing _____ ? [Insert your top target]

N.B.: For some limiting it to one goal might be impossible. Two is fine but avoid going over.

Answer to number 4 is now the basis on which you will assess and prioritise your tomorrow list (remember the one you do in the lead up to bed time for the following day).

