

The Inner Game & Improved Self-Talk

Mindfulness

- Mindfulness is defined by expert Padraig O'Morain as, "returning, with acceptance, to what your senses are bringing you".
- It is simply a way of living where you start to notice things you used to let float into the background so often before e.g. the feel of your footsteps, the smell of the flowers or the freshness of the wind on your face.
- It helps us not to focus on past injustices by inflicting the double arrow i.e. the first arrow being the event itself and the second being the arrow we inflict by replaying incidents over and over.
